1. Short title and commencement
2. Interpretation
3. Establishment, composition and officers of the Commission
4. Functions of the Commission
5. Mode of performance of Commission's functions
6. General powers of the Commission
7. Submission of proposals and recommendations
8. Annual reports and presentation to Parliament
9. Rules of procedure

Short title and commencement

1. This Act may be cited as the Swaziland Law Reform and Development Commission Act, 2001 and shall come into operation on such date as the Minister may by notice in the Gazette, appoint.

Interpretation

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise provides -

"Commission" means the Swaziland Law Reform and Development Commission established under section 3;

"Minister" means the Minister responsible for Law Reform.

Establishment, composition and officers of the Commission

3. (1) There is hereby established an independent body to be known as the Swaziland Law Reform and Development Commission.

(2) The Commission shall consist of the following members-

- (a) a person appointed by the Minister who has such legal qualifications and experience as the Minister may determine and who shall be the Chairman;
- (b) the Attorney-General or his representative;
- (c) the Judicial Commissioner;
- (d) a legally qualified person who is a member of the Law Society of Swaziland appointed by the Minister after consultation with the Society; and
- (e) not more than three members appointed by the Minister who are, by reason of their special knowledge or experience, able to represent cultural, economic and social interests.

(3) A member of the Commission, other than an ex-officio member, shall -

- (a) hold office for a period of three years which period may be renewed by the Minister; and
- (b) receive such remuneration, fees or allowance as may be specified in his instrument of appointment by the Minister.

(4) After consultation with the Commission, the Minister shall appoint a Director who has such legal qualifications and experience as he may determine to assist the Commission in the performance of its functions.

(5) There shall further be appointed at least two legal assistants and such other officers as may be necessary to assist the Commission in the performance of its functions.

(6) The Director appointed under this section shall, subject to this Act and to the directions of the Chairman, be the chief executive of the Commission and shall be responsible for the day-to-day operations and management of the Commission.

Functions of the Commission

4. (1) The functions of the Commission shall be to keep under review all the laws of the Kingdom of Swaziland with a view to its systematic and orderly reform, development, improvement and modernisation in accordance with the national needs of Swaziland.

(2) In the performance of its functions but without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1), the Commission may, either at its own instance or upon a request or reference -

- (a) review any law or part of a law and make proposals which it considers necessary for-
  - (i) bringing that law into conformity with the existing national requirements or circumstances in the Kingdom of Swaziland;
  - (ii) the proper consolidation, simplification or rationalisation of that law;
  - (iii) the elimination of anachronism, anomalies or other defects, repealing unnecessary or obsolete laws and consolidating separate enactments which are in parimateria;
  - (iv) the co-ordination and harmonisation of the concepts and institutions of the common law, statutory law and Swazi law and custom and the orderly reconciliation of differences in those concepts and institutions;

Provided that such co-ordination and harmonisation shall not be carried out in respect to the matters specified in Schedule 3 of the Constitution of Swaziland 1968 (repealed with savings)

- (b) make proposals for the adoption of new or more effective methods for the law, the dispensation of justice and to ensure respect for the rule of law;
  - (c) do all such other things as are necessary for, incidental or conducive to the attainment of the objects set out in this section.
- (3) The Commission may -
- (a) establish and maintain a system of consultation and co-operation with any other person or body of persons within or outside Swaziland engaged in law reform and may obtain any information relating to the legal system of other countries likely to facilitate or promote its objects;
  - (b) publish or facilitate the publication of materials relating to law reform;
  - (c) convene or facilitate the holding of seminars, workshops, public lectures and other meetings for the purpose of discussing or disseminating information or matter relating to law reform in Swaziland and particularly with a view to gauging public opinion regarding its envisaged recommendations and assessing awareness and response to them.

Mode of performance of Commission's functions

5. (1) The Chairman may, from time to time and after consultations with the Minister, refer to the Commission matters which the Commission shall examine and report upon and make recommendations with a view to reforming the law in relation to those matters either generally or in respect of any particular aspect.

(2) The Minister may give direction to the Commission as to the order in which it shall deal with any term of reference.

(3) The Commission may, after informing the Minister and at its own instance, undertake the examination of any matter without any further reference to by the Minister.

- (4) (a) In carrying out an examination of any matter whether or not in pursuance of a reference, the Commission may so arrange its work so as to enable it to educate the public on the issues involved in that matter and to obtain the people concerned with the issue in question.
- (b) For the purpose of complying with the provisions of paragraph (a) the Commission may do all such acts as in its opinion are necessary to achieve participation by the public in the work of the Commission and may, in particular -
  - (i) organise and hold seminars for the discussion of matters of public concern relevant to the subject of reference;
  - (ii) arrange for public lectures to be given by the Commission;
  - (iii) call for and promote debates at meetings called by, or for the purposes of, the Commission or through the mass media;

- (iii) call for and promote debates at meetings called by, or for the purposes of, the Commission or through the mass media;
- (iv) establish and publish, periodical or other publication for the purposes of disseminating information on law reform;
- (v) do anything which, in the opinion of the Commission, is necessary or desirable for the purposes of publicising its tentative reform recommendations and to obtain awareness of and response to them, by the public.

General powers of the Commission

6. (1) The Commission may appoint a committee or committees for the purpose of dealing with any particular matter or matters referred to the Commission or intended to be proposed by the Commission to the Minister.

(2) For the purpose of dealing with any particular matter referred to it, the Commission may co-opt such number of persons to assist in the collection and organisation of material as it may deem necessary.

(3) The Commission may call upon any person to furnish it with such information as it may specify.

(4) The Minister may, from time to time, make rules or give directions regarding -

- (a) the procedure to be complied with by the Commission in co-opting persons to assist the Commission, and the terms and conditions of service of those persons on the Commission;
- (b) the procedure for the submission to the Commission of any proposals relating to law reform;
- (c) the manner in which proposals for law reform, other than those which are include in references, may be brought to his attention;
- (d) the procedure to be adopted with regard to proposals for law reform made to the Commission by any member of the public and not connected to any reference, or any other matter, already before the Commission.

Submission of proposals and recommendations

7. (1) Subject to subsection (2), where the Commission has concluded the examination of any matter under its consideration it shall draw up a report in suitable form, incorporating such proposals and recommendations as it thinks fit and submit it to the Minister.

(2) Where the Minister has referred a matter to the Commission or where the Commission under section 5(3) is reviewing or has reviewed any law -

- (a) the Commission may at any time before making its final report, submit to the Minister an interim report on the matter under consideration;
- (b) the Minister may, at any time before the Commission has made its final report, direct the Commission to submit to him any interim report on the matter under consideration; and

- (c) the Minister may refer the matter contained in a final or interim report back to the Commission for its reconsideration with a view to it being modified in the light of changed facts or circumstances and may require the Commission to produce a supplementary report.

Annual reports and presentation to Parliament

- 8. Within twelve months after the end of each financial year or such longer or shorter period as the Minister may direct, the Chairman shall prepare a report and submit it to the Minister, who will as soon as practicable, lay the report before Parliament.

Rules of procedure

- 9. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Commission may make rules governing its proceedings and other matter.
